BLENDERS CUT

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY BOTTLED AT CASK STRENGTH

BLENDERS CUT SERIES

ORIGIN BLEND - THIRTYSIX/TWENTYONE

After numerous releases of our Triple Cask Alter Ego Bourbon, Doc's Master Blender, Jesse Parker, started to notice a late-night trend as we sampled the base bourbon. After witnessing copious nights in the warehouse with glasses that refused to be set down, it became apparent that the Blenders Cut needed to be shared! this offering comes in at 115 proof.

HOW TO DRINK

It's spectacular neat, but we also found that it goes well with a few drops of water or ice, or will elevate any classic bourbon cocktail.

DESCRIPTION

Blender's Cut is the origin blend of whiskeys used for Doc Swinson's Alter Ego Triple Cask bourbon before it is finished in three types of fortified wine and spirits casks. We wanted to make this straight bourbon available to Docs fans so they could enjoy a high proof bourbon from the cask and to highlight one stage of blending in our process for the Alter Ego Triple Cask Bourbon.

We bottled Blender's Cut at a staggering 115 proof; it is blended in such a way that doesn't require us to add any notable amounts of water to the blend to bring it to bottle strength. This labor intensive method allows the bourbon to maintain more mouth-feel and flavor.
