OUR STORY

The Doc Swinson's Collection began with an extremely small cache of Bourbon Barrels that were just too good to pass up. It has since grown into a unique and on occasion extremely rare, collection of American whiskies. The proof is in the palate. Each whiskey brought in is personally tasted by the four of us at Doc Swinson's. If it's good we will find a way to share it with the world.

When it comes to finishing techniques, we look to the old-world traditions that have stood the test of time, from Scottish whiskey blenders to the timeless sherry pyramids of the Spanish solera.

Whatever whiskey comes through these doors, our small group of tastemakers at Docs work hard to create flavor profiles that hold our expectations of great whiskey to a higher standard; and that starts by always letting the whiskey shine.

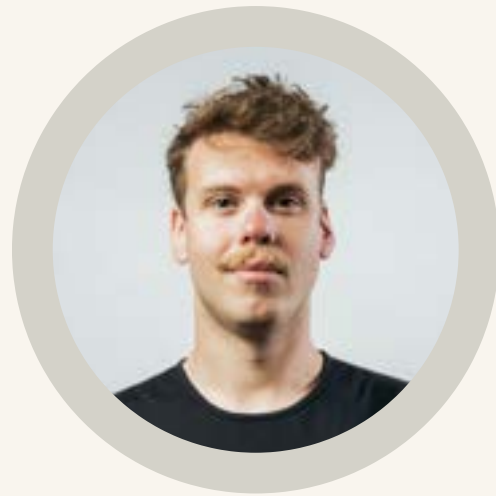

No need to take our word for it, give 'em a try!

SMALL, BUT LEGENDARY

We are a small team, proud of the caliber of each and every product we release. We truly live by our "bottled when ready" moniker; we release whiskey that all of us have personally signed off on as something we'd be proud to put our names on. We choose quality over profit everyday, and know that when we let the whiskey shine -- we do, too.

ALTER EGO

TRIPLE CASK BOURBON

Inspired by the old-world techniques of Scottish whisky distillers, Doc Swinson's Alter Ego Bourbon is finished using Olorosso Sherry, Pedro Ximenez Sherry, and Cognac casks.

TASTING NOTES

Vanilla, marzipan, stewed dark fruits and molasses with some subtle orange peel and nuts on the end. A medium+ body will stand on your palate for some time.

MASH BILL

Blended in-house from two mashbills.

Bourbon No. 1 - aged a min 5 years:
60% corn | 36% rye | 4% malted barley

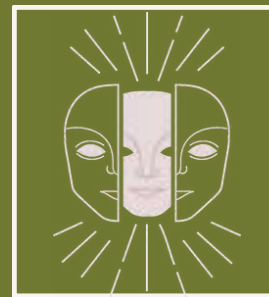

Bourbon No. 2 - aged a min 5 years:
75% corn | 21% rye | 4% malted barley

ALTER EGO
SOLERA METHOD AGED RYE

Inspired by the sherry bodegas of Spain and rum blending techniques of South & Central America, Doc's rye is aged in our hand-built rum cask solera pyramids. This makes this rye truly unique, and likely the only old-school solera in the USA aging rye.

Our solera explained, in brief:

- Dump bourbon barrels – Fill with our own rum blend
- Pull rum (1- 48 months) – Add barrels to solera
- Stack solera 3 layers high – Fill with rye blend
- Pull 20% from each barrel on bottom row – blend and bottle
- Cascade the rye down layer by layer and add new blend to top row
- See a diagram of the process here

TASTING NOTES

Light oak, drizzled caramel, velvet tides of fig, poached pears with cinnamon, a hint of anise, followed by long grassy cane sugar

MASH BILL

Blended in-house from two mashbills.

*Rye No. 1 - aged a min 5 years:
 95% rye | 5% malted barley*

*Rye No. 2 - aged a min 5 years:
 51% rye | 45% corn | 4% malted barley*

EXPLORATORY CASK SERIES

We occasionally find unique finishing barrels that are ready to be retired from their current industry, Curacao, Madeira, Jamaica Rum, etc., but still have life left in them to finish our whiskey in! Occasionally, we find exceedingly rare whiskeys like a 15year Kentucky bourbon... for that we bottle at cask strength!

These releases are LIMITED and do not last long!

BLENDERS CUT

STRAIGHT BOURBON

After witnessing copious nights in the warehouse with glasses that refused to be set down, it became apparent that the Blenders Cut needed to be shared! Aged 5 years, we offer this to you at a whopping 115 proof, from the cask. Enjoy straight from the bottle or add a little water to bring out some more flavors.

TASTING NOTES

Typical tasting notes include apricots, brown sugar, peanuts, toasted almond, charred oak, dark chocolate, and cream. Pure bourbon deliciousness!
