STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEY FINISHED IN RUM & ANEJO TEQUILA CASKS

EXPLORATORY CASK SERIES

A symphony of three distinct spirits all come together in this rye whiskey aged in three types of casks. Starting with a blend of two five-year rye whiskey mash bills first finished in our ex-rum cask solera for an additional year before our blender decided to play around with a few Añejo Tequila casks.

Aging this whiskey in the Pacific Northwest over winter has produced a delicate balance of flavors; baked spiced pears, agave syrup, followed by white pepper, fruity rum, and vanilla.

DESCRIPTION

Born out of curiosity, a little gut feeling, and a bit of luck, Tres Amigos started as a blend of our two signature rye whiskeys that were finished in our award-winning ex-rum solera system. Originally destined to be bottled, a small portion of this batch was left over along with two ex-anejo tequila cask from another project of ours. Pairing these three different flavor profiles was just meant to be. Rye finished in rum casks for upwards of a year then further aged in ex-Añejo tequila casks for an additional eight months made this rye whiskey truly interesting.

Waves of agave syrup, pears in syrup, toffee, and white peppercorns make this rye one for the books.
